

June 2015 Activity Report

From: Zongli Lin, Technical Committee Chair (zl5y@virginia.edu)

Date: May 2015

Summary

The committee met in Los Angeles, California, on Tuesday, December 6, 3:00-4:00 pm, during the 2014 IEEE Conference on Decision and Control. We discussed ideas for promoting nonlinear systems and control both among our research community and our community at large. There will be an informal meeting among those who attend the 1st IFAC Conference on Modeling, Identification and Control of Nonlinear Systems (MICNON-2015), Saint-Petersburg, Russia, June 24-26, 2015.

During this reporting period, several new members have joined the committee. The roster of the committee members on the TC's website is up to date. Committee members continued to be active in their activities that contribute to the mission of the committee. The November 2014 TC report has been uploaded to the TC website. The page EVENTS on the TC website that lists the upcoming conferences and workshops stayed updated.
